Dear business associate,

This is to inform you that some major changes have occurred over the past few months. RMGI Holland and Pyral SA in France have decided that Pyral SA will take over the manufacturing and sales of RMGI studio and broadcast products. For this reason we have over the last few months transferred critical production equipment to Avranches in France.

Pyral will produce the studio and broadcast products based on RMGI formulations with the assistance of essential RMGI technical personal in order to ensure that they will manufacture the same quality products as RMGI used to do.

By joining the two manufacturing facilities of France and Holland we make sure that we will serve the markets in the years to come with a quality product.

Since 1985 the Pyral production plant has been based in Avranches in Normandy.

Pyral is ISO 9001 certified and associated member of ICMA.

For many years the company has specialized in perforated magnetic tapes used by the film industry for sound recording. Pyral manufactures magnetic transfer foils (hot seal) used for bank cards, fidelity cards as well as lamination foils (cold glue) aimed at ticketing and travel tickets. Pyral also produces magnetic inks and magnetic slurries used in the printing of magnetic stripes which are found in ticketing of access control (ticket for the underground, tram, plane, parking and tolls). A wide range of solutions are produced for the security industry (currency and brand protections, military applications, pharmaceutical, flight recording etc.)

The nature of above mentioned products demands a very high quality level which is in line with the demand on quality for the RMGI products.

From the first of January 2012 onwards all sales, shipments as well as invoicing, will be handled by the Pyral organization. Until the first of January 2012 all business will be handled by RMGI. The brand name RMGI as well as the product portfolio inclusive packing will be the same as the present RMGI products.

As already mentioned before RMGI feels sure that with the integration of RMGI products in the Pyral organization the availability of studio and broadcast products with:

- product supply continuity
- a high quality level
- high service level

will be assured for the years to come.

Within a few days the Pyral organization will inform you regarding the persons who will be responsible for dealing with all aspects of the business.

In case you might have any questions related to the above please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best regards,
